

MALCOLM S. MEDLEY

Bio

Malcolm S. Medley was appointed Chairman of the MCAD by Governor Deval Patrick in November 2007.

As Chairman, he leads an organization of investigators, fact-finders, attorneys, and others who enforce state and federal civil rights laws. Chairman Medley is also an MCAD Commissioner, and in addition to his administrative functions, he oversees the Commission's regulatory, enforcement, and adjudicatory functions.

As a practicing attorney, he handled employment and civil rights cases in federal and state courts on behalf of individual, municipal, and corporate clients. His experience extends to appellate practice in Federal and State Appeal Courts, as well as before State and Federal administrative agencies. As a Special Assistant Corporation Counsel with the City of Boston, he represented the Boston Public School Department in discrimination cases, labor negotiation and disputes, disciplinary proceedings, and grievance arbitrations.

Chairman Medley served as an Arbitrator on the American Arbitration Association's National Roster of Employment and Commercial Arbitrators. In 2001, he served as Legal Counsel to OneUnited Bank. During his tenure there, he provided legal oversight for what became the largest black-owned bank in the United States. In 2003 Massachusetts Lawyers Weekly recognized Mr. Medley as one of its "Up and Coming Lawyers" of the year. He serves on several non-profit boards, and is immediate Past-President of the Massachusetts Black Lawyers Association.

Chairman Medley earned a B.S. at Northeastern University, and a J.D. and LL.M. in Banking and Financial Services at Boston University Law School.
